

BUYING A KITTEN – GENERAL NOTICE

The Asian Cat Association is very lucky to have amongst its members a number of experienced and trusted breeders, and we as a club, take the welfare of our breed very seriously. Whilst we cannot regulate the activities of our members we do offer advice to our breeders and potential owners.

After twelve months of the Covid emergency, there have been unfortunate and clear trends emerging around the buying and selling of kittens so PLEASE BE CAUTIOUS. The Asian Cat Association does not endorse the advertising of kittens prior to their birth on pets for sale sites, nor would it expect our breeders to ask for deposits on kittens yet to be born. Whilst we cannot and do not wish to set a purchase price, our breeders advise us that the current prices for Asian kittens are somewhere between £750 and £900.

Should you require advice please feel free to contact any member of our committee who will be more than happy to help.